On Wednesday morning, Bishop Hopkins celebrated the Holy Communion, and in the evening, a missionary service was held, with addresses by Bishops Randell and Hopkins. An important resolution moved by the Rev. Mr. Buel, was adopted, authorizing the appointment of an itigerant missionery in destitute towns in Northern Vermont, at an ample salary. The Herald says in its notice of the Concention :

"An upcommon degree of interest in Ver-mont missions characterized all the discussions and proceedings. Among the clergy present, his many friends were glad to welcome the Rev. Dr. Hicks, the founder of Trunty Church, of which he had been the devoted Rector for some, 29 years, and whose name will ever be remembered with love and esteem, by its members and this community. The parish is now under the able charge of the Rev. Mr. Howard, during whose rectorship it has built the most cost and perhaps the largest and finest church, the Diocese, at a total cost of some $35,000.

Special religious interest exists in Wallingford, the Baptist and Congregationalist churches working harmoniously together.

There is an increasing religious interest in the Baptist church in Windsor, Vt., Rev. S. K. Dexter pastor. Fourteen have been converted. Meetings are held through the Methodist Church in Middlebury, last Sabbath, thirty persons were presented for memocrahip in the church, and twenty received the ordinance of baptism.

An extraordinary and profound revival of religion is in progress among the students at Princeton College, which has resulted already in the conversion of a number of young men, several of whom have been considered the most rackless in the college.

Of the 94 students now in Andover Theological Seminary, but four are from Vermont. The name of Charles M. Mead, a graduate of Middlebury College, appears in the Catalogue of Andover, as Hitchcock Burlington, Jan. 4, 1866 Professor (elect) of the Hebrew Language and Literature. He is now abroad, and enters upon his work at Andover next September.

Matson M. Smith, D. D., and Hiram Carle tuff, late m nisters of the Orthodox Congregational Church, and James Haughton, Jr., and Frank W. Winslow of Andover Theological Seminary, were admitted to the order of Dencon in the Protestant Episcopal Church, in Boston on Tuesday last.

Rev. Dr. Bellows, in a recent discourse ta Cooper Institute, answered the question, "What is Unitarianism?" He divided the denomination into "new school" and "old school," represented respectively by Rev. Dr. Channing and Thodore Parker He stated, as reported, that :

The union of the views as held by these two distinguished divines, was growing more and more complete, and he thought both elements were useful He thought Mr. Parker's views and influence a tower of strength to the canse. He affirmed that the fundamental posi-tion of his own and the Unitarian denomination was the "denial of the Supreme Deity of Jesus but that he would not attempt to preve this from the Bible. For the first two e.turies of Christmaity, he said such an idea as that of Trinitarianism never entered the head of any out. Believing that Christ is God, in order to be consistent, wership and prayer was due to the mother of Jesus. This Protestant mystical dogma, he seserted, had ever been a hindran to the progress of reform in the world.

The work on the great Fifth Avenue Catholic Cachedral, N. Y., which was suspended owing to the high price of labor, is shortly to be resumed under the direction of Archbishop McClockey.

A number of members of the Catholic order of St. Augustine, have asked to be incorporated as the Prother Hermits of St. Mary's Church, Lawrence, Mass., with a capital of a quarter of a million dollars .-They are the only society of St. Augustinians in New England, and are about to erect the largest church building in Massachusetts. In Towards, Ps., the Methodist revisal is so powerful, that the places of business are hearly all closed, and lawyers, coctors, merchants mechanics, the rich and the poor, are equally interested and laboring to promote the work. In Indiana and Ohio, the revival is very powerful and extensive.

In the small town of Delaware, in Ohio. no less than three hundred have professed conversion, most of whom have united with the church.

Across the Lake .- Some of the Whitehall people having thrown cold water on the Plattsburgh and Whitehall Railroad project, the Plattshurgh Republican suggests that it may yet be deemed advisable to cross the Lake at Ticonderoga and pass south upon the level route lying a short distance East of the Lake.

The Chaton Co. Democrats are rejoicing over the success of Hon. S M. Weed of Plattsburgh, whose seat in the N Y. Assembly was contested by Mr. Williams, The Assembly has unanimously awarded the sent to Mr. Ween

Two very similar accidents-loth fataloccurred last Saturday. In one Mr. A. Counterpanes, Brown, of Chintonville, while driving on the Plank Road in Ausable, was thrown from BLEACHED AND BROWN COTTONS, his wagon and so hadly injured that he died on Tuesday. It is supposed he fell over the dash board and was kicked. In the other, Mr. Michael Goodman, of Beckmanton, going
